CONFLICT MATERIALS POLICY

13 November 2013

Hydraulic Projects Limited is committed to:

- Ascertain whether relevant minerals (tin, tantalum, tungsten, gold) are “necessary to the functionality of production” of products it supplies to its customers; and
- Where we identify that such minerals are “necessary to the functionality or production” of those products, we will use commercially reasonable efforts to identify whether they are conflict free, as defined by the relevant Securities and Exchange Commission regulations; and
- We will notify our customers of those results by means of the EICC template

The current target date for completion of the project is 30 June 2014. This may change for reasons beyond our control. In the meantime, our current status can be found on the EICC template which can be downloaded here.
